Organizing and Party Building Post-2024 Election

The far right seems to have made gains in the 2024 election, including the re-election of former president Trump. We have a lot of work to do, and it starts today.

The Democrats have shown once again that they have no interest in standing for working people, instead campaigning with the likes of Liz Cheney and turning their back on Palestinian people fighting for their lives while bombs are dropped in Gaza and also in Lebanon and Syria. The work is on the ground, in our communities and in our workplaces. We need to be there.

We thank William Stodden and Stephanie Cholensky for campaigning and promoting the party as presidential and vice-presidential candidates over the last year. It is tough work, but Bill and Stephanie worked hard to get the word out to people across the US. Thank you Stephanie and Bill!

In other campaigns, Joshua Bradley garnered more than 26,000 votes in the Raleigh NC At-Large council election and Pat Noble was re-elected to Red Bank NJ regional Board of Education.

Now is the time to focus on building the Party in our local communities and movements. New members have been joining post-election and our working groups and campaigns have been active.

We have lots of work to do and we can only succeed with active membership. We hope to see more involvement from all of you as we approach uncharted challenges and opportunities.

"Track to the Future" a Campaign to Socialize the Rail Industry

The Socialist Party USA Presents

Track ← to the Future
A Campaign for Public Rail

Mass public transit is the future we need—where cars and trucks are off the road, mobility for working people expands dramatically, and where technological innovation creates a fleet of trains that move faster, safer, and without the use of climate change-creating fossil fuels.

That's why SPUSA has launched, "Track to the Future: A Campaign for Public Rail," which aims to bring a broader socialist vision to the interconnected issues of environment, labor, economy, and worker control as we pursue the goals of a truly publicly controlled national rail system.
